Who Am I?

Aren't you amazed at the marvels of modern technology? I shouldn't have to tell you, that none of it would be possible without those who dedicated themselves to the study of math, science, and engineering. Wouldn't someone who excelled at science and math be good at trading?

My name is Mudib Rawoot and I am a Chemical Engineer with a masters in Material Science Engineering. I work as a software developer, and do day trading and entrepreneurship on the side.

While I'm not yet financially independent, and I have seen far more than average oversized returns on investments doing day trading. I have also lost a lot of money, trading is a life long learned skill, over time, I am confident, I will make millions. This SP500 Report is what I use to help me make these oversized returns.

I have gained knowledge and understanding from studying the chemical sciences. I have a very strong understanding of how the natural world works and the laws governing physics and chemical reactions. All of this helps me in interpreting the treasure trove of data out there, filtering out what is of value versus what is junk and delivering it to you in a high quality report.

This is a way to earn an income and obtain financial freedom while helping others achieve their financial freedom. When I achieve my success, I hope to continue my study of the natural world with my own funded experimentation... I actually already have made a yet to be purported, discovery, from my own home experimentation. You may be interested in it, I am dubbing the heart effect. It is part of a systemic social mechanism to determine the common grounds between people and thus catalyze the way towards peace. Check it out here: World Peace Catalyst Fund.

Anyway, all of this means, you are purchasing the information from a hardworking, reliable and trustworthy source. While I work on achieving my financial freedom, I hope to help you achieve yours.

To use an RSS Report. First reference the 4-time frame charts. RSS provides 2-min, 5-min, 15-min, 1hr, 30-min, daily, and weekly time frame charts for you to get a quick eagle eye view of the current trend. Next, go to the Current Week potentials and forecast section. This will give you an educated idea of where the markets can head in the next few days. If you want context on the market conditions and a brief glance as what is going on in the world that may affect the markets, check the context section. If you want more technical insights into the market trends, you have 9 sections to go over. You can see the 5D-SMA/3D-EMA comparison, the 5W-SMA/3W-EMA comparison for a moving average comparison. You can view the MACD on the daily or weekly time frame for a gauge on the momentums. You can view UO on the daily or weekly time frame for a confirmation of the momentum on the MACD. If you want to know which price levels to monitor for entries and exits, RSS also provides a section with key support and resistance price levels. If you're wondering, which days, there may be potential shifts in the market trend, we provide a section with technical analysis on the Fibonacci time frames. These give insights on days which have a stronger potential to cause shifts in the market trends. We also provide a capitol hill mapping, so you can keep an eye on what congress is discussing and planning. This is so you can start getting a firmer grasp on the future and exert your control and influence on the world.

RSS is your guide to a better future.
